

Registration Still Open for Government Scholars Academy

March 8, 2013

Spaces are filling up for the second annual Hall County Government Scholars' Academy, which will be held April 9-June 4. Each of the nine sessions will focus on a different aspect of local government and will include tours of many facilities. If you're interested in being a part of this interactive experience, log on to hallcounty.org to download the syllabus and registration form.

"We want to encourage citizens to be active in their local government," County Administrator Randy Knighton said. "Participants will gain an intimate understanding of how their tax dollars are spent and what issues face Hall County Government."

This program is free to the public.

For more information about the Government Scholars' Academy, contact Public Information Officer Katie Crumley at kcrumley@hallcounty.org or 770-297-5504.