

Hall Co. Chief Appraiser Appointed To Review Board

November 20, 2013

The Chief Appraiser for the Hall County Board of Tax Assessors has been appointed to the Fannin County Performance Review Board.

Douglas McGinnitie, commissioner of the Georgia Department of Revenue, appointed Steve Watson to the board in October.

"It's an honor to serve on the Peer Review Board," Watson said. "The Peer Review process is important in reviewing the policies, procedures and issues outlined in the Governing Authorities resolution."

The independent review board's purpose is to perform a performance review of the Fannin County Board of Tax Assessors as requested in the resolution adopted by the Fannin County Board of Commissioners.

In addition to Watson, Bryan Payne, chief appraiser of the White County Board of Tax Assessors, will also serve on the board. Mark Loyd, property appraiser with the Georgia Department of Revenue, will serve as the Performance Review Board's chairman.